April 3, 1946 - January 22, 2024

Adele Goldman passed away unexpectedly on Monday, January 22, 2024, at the age of 77. She was born on April 3, 1946, in Brooklyn, New York. She grew up as the only child of Frieda and Joseph Goldstein.

Adele's passions were artwork, photography, gardening, and, most of all, her family. She was a devoted caregiver and supporter of her beloved husband, children, grandchildren, father, and friends.

Adele and her husband, Ira, were childhood sweethearts. They had their first date at an ice-skating rink when she was 15 years old. They didn't fall on the ice, but they did fall for each other. Five years later, they married and then enjoyed 57 years of marriage together.

Adele graduated from Temple University Tyler School of Art and received a master's degree in art education from Kean University. She prized her career as an elementary school art teacher.

Adele is preceded in death by her parents, Frieda and Joseph Goldstein. She is survived by cherished family including her husband, Ira; her sons, Adam and his wife Dori and Andy and his wife Jamie; and her grandchildren, Anna, Evan, Amelia, Dalia, and Lila.

“ Adele was a very good family friend, who was the first person we met when we moved to Cincinnati, Ohio. She was a very kind and welcoming person when we were unsure of where to move to in 2003 in that region. We even purchased our house in Cincinnati in that period from her. We remained close friends with her, even after she moved to Houston, Texas, after which we maintained contact. We will always cherish the memories that we had growing up, as she was a very kind and warm personality. She will be sorely missed.
