“ I am shocked and saddened by Brian's sudden passing. I can only imagine the grief that his family and close friends must feel. My heart goes out to them during this unimaginably difficult time.

I knew Brian through work, and in our few interactions, he was kind, intelligent, and generous with his time. I wish I could have spent more time with him. Brian is in a better place now, his soul finding rest. He will remain in all of our minds. Rest in peace, Brian.

“ To the entire Weissman family, I am deeply saddened by your loss. I had the gift of meeting and working alongside Brian at Dropbox in my first year. During a business trip in San Francisco, we spent time together. Brian had a ferocious interest in people and over a 20 minute bus ride conversation, he fired one insightful question after another at me. It was an unofficial interview and as far as intro conversations go, I never met such a thoughtful and well-versed human who sought to understand a person and covered so much ground with each question. He was an incredible soul and I cannot imagine how much he will continue to be missed by his loved ones and family. My prayers are with the family. We all lost a great human being.
