

Dr. Marvin Milewits

February 21, 1949 - June 1, 2018

Dr. Marvin Milewits, 69, of Houston, passed away 2018. Marvin is survived by his loving and devoted wife Marilyn of 41 years, children Alyssa (Mark) Faulkenberg, Sharon (Brett) Kobelin and grandchildren Mathew and Adriana Faulkenberg and Isabella, Juliette and Hunter Kobelin; his brother Martin Milewits, mother-in-law Helen Beckman, and brother-in-law Jerry (Jamie) Beckman and many close friends and former colleagues.

Born in Ixelles, Belgium, the son of the late Israel and Julie (Brudniefski) Milewits, Dr. Milewits spent his early years in Rehovot, Israel, before moving to New Jersey. He pursued his passion of physics at Rutgers University and furthered his education by completing his PhD in Physics at New York University in 1979. Upon completion of his doctorate, he moved to Houston and began his career in the oil service industry. Dr. Milewits took enormous pride and was extremely devoted in his career at Schlumberger. He led the development of lithium and rechargeable batteries at Schlumberger for use in downhole oilfield tools for three decades. These batteries were a key enabler for a multibillion dollar industry and were proven to be the safest in the industry. Dr. Milewits wrote many technical papers and received multiple patents for his unique designs. He was considered the Grandfather of lithium batteries at Schlumberger. He was well respected worldwide and was known as an expert in this technology.

In his spare time Dr. Milewits enjoyed bowling and playing tennis on a variety of leagues and learning about astronomy. He also had a quick wit and enjoyed sharing his humor with his dear friends and family.

A graveside service will be held at 3:00pm on Monday, June 4th, 2018 at Beth Yeshurun Post Oak Cemetery, 1037 North Post Oak, Houston, Texas 77055.

In lieu of flowers, please make a donation to MD Anderson and designate the amount to research in the area of Retinol Blastoma or Bladder Cancer.
