When we think of Lynn we think Exclamation Points as in !!! Lynn, did nothing other than exclaim his concern and love whatever the circumstance. He was a giant of a man in size, love, and caring. When Sharon was hospitalized, Lynn was the scribe. He'd text 'Sharon is doing well!!!. On holidays, he'd send 'we love you guys !!!'.

Lynn was loving, gentle, and genuine to his core. His focus was on others. He was a man who embraced his faith, his family and his friends. He was always ready to help, and send love!!!. His was a life well lived, albeit too short. His memory will be treasured. His and Sharon's love story lends credence that love prevails. May we all learn from their story. Sharon and family, Joseph and I pray that God's comfort surround you all.

“ Uncle Lynn,

I will truly miss you ! You were a great loving uncle and always had the kindest heart. My fondest memories of you included the time we went to Sea World when I was a little girl and you let me run through the sprinklers in the kiddy area and I was drenched. That photo with you that we took sticks with me to this day. Another memory is taking us on joy rides in the Mustang convertible around town when I was a little girl which inspired me to want a Mustang, of course when I turned 16. Even though we lived in two completely different states, I am so thankful that we kept in touch over Facebook, which helped us stay close and connected over the years.

I am so glad that I got to see in this past January when you and Aunt Sharon were in Tampa. I will cherish that time forever.

Adding a photo to this post of the last time I was in Houston back in 2014 when I was in my first job post college training in Dallas and you and Aunt Sharon flew me down to Houston to spend a weekend with you.

I will miss you very much!

Love your niece,

Lindsay

“ Very fond memories of Uncle Lynn over the years when we went to Sea World when Lindsay and Corey were younger. Also visiting Sharon and Lynn in Houston was always filled with love of family and love of animals. My condolences go out to Sharon and Marc, Lindsay and Corey and the Zallis-Youngblood families. My best Jodi Wagner-Zallis
