

Scott Simon Gertner

August 11, 1958 - May 1, 2025

Scott Simon Gertner, a celebrated Houston musician, entrepreneur, and vibrant pillar of the city's nightlife scene, passed away unexpectedly on May 1, 2025. Born on August 11, 1958, Scott grew up in Houston and graduated from the High School for the Performing and Visual Arts (HSPVA), where his love for music flourished.

A three-time Grammy Award nominee, Scott was renowned for his smooth, soulful voice and commanding stage presence. Inspired by his mother, Jean Gertner, a professional singer in New York's Catskills, Scott's musical journey began at the age of four. He taught himself piano by mimicking his sister's lessons, picked up the guitar at six, and later formed his own band—setting the stage for a lifetime of musical excellence.

A witty loving person, Scott was dedicated to his family and his music. He mentored musicians to reach higher heights in the music industry and was a great inspiration to everyone he met.

Scott's talents took him across the nation, opening for music legends such as Luther Vandross, Elton John, Brian McKnight, Erykah Badu, Harry Connick Jr., and The Neville Brothers. His performances blended genres with grace and authenticity, captivating audiences and building a loyal fanbase that knew him simply as "Scotty G."

Scott was the face and visionary behind several of Houston's most iconic live music venues, first performing at Birdwatchers, Cody's, and The Roof at Houston Oaks, and then opening his own ventures including Scott Gertner's Remington's, Scott Gertner's Skybar, Scott Gertner's Sports Bar Live, Scott Gertner's at Houston Pavilions, and most recently, Scott Gertner's Rhythm Room, which continues to serve the Houston community and has become a mainstay for live music. These establishments weren't just clubs—they were vibrant community hubs that celebrated music, culture, and connection. Skybar, in particular, became a staple of the city's nightlife and a launchpad for emerging talent, with patrons fondly proclaiming the epithet, “party over here” to the venue for years to come.

Scott Gertner was a class act—a self-made man, gifted artist, generous soul, beloved son, and “the best brother in the world!”. His legacy lives on through the music he shared, the venues he created, and the lives he uplifted.

He is survived by his sister, Cindy Robin Gertner, his son, Aaron Chambers-Gertner, and many cousins and friends. Scott was preceded in death by his parents, David and Jean Gertner, and uncle, Gil Gertner.

A funeral service will take place on Monday, May 5, 2025, at 2:00 pm in the Sophia and Jack Bender Memorial Chapel at Beth Yeshurun Post Oak Cemetery, 7445 Awty School Lane, Houston, Texas 77055.

“ Scott was a good friend since my student days at HSPVA, and I regularly enjoyed his performances around town and our shared love for jazz and popular music ranging from Billy Joel to other greats. I was so sorry to hear belatedly of his passing. Scott was a true mensch and someone I've always held in my heart throughout my life. Like so many others he touched with his smile and talent, I'll miss him greatly. Chip Pitts

“ Dear Cindy, The Gertner Family, Friends, & Colleagues,
I only just learned that Scott had passed away a few days ago, and I was shocked and saddened to hear of this news. Please accept my deepest sympathies...even if they are late. I am truly sorry for your loss, and it is a significant loss to his family, the music community of Houston, and everyone that knew him. I'm sorry I didn't know about this at the time, or else I definitely would have traveled to Houston for the funeral and remembrance service.

I don't often make the trip back to Houston these days, but I had hoped to someday soon make that trip and stop in and say hello to Scott (and others) after so many years of being away from Houston and out of the music business. I knew Scott as a friend and colleague (sound engineer) during the Codys in the Village and early Skybar days. Scott would often call me to work sound for the band on special engagements and parties as well. There are so many memories flooding my brain. Those were pretty exciting and fun times back in the day. I remember Scott's somewhat quirky sense of humor and that sly smile when he was messing with you. It was like, "I got you, didn't I?" Ha ha... I would sometimes mess with him too at the sound board by muting his microphone and watching the confused look on his face. I would throw up my hand pretending I didn't know what was going on. Of course, I didn't do this during important live performances, but only during soundchecks. LOL! I have such a treasure chest of memories of my experiences working and hanging with Scott and the band. I do remember that Scott was a super human-being - always nice to people, always helping others, and always super friendly with something interesting to say to everyone. It had been at least 25 years, or more, since I last saw or spoke to Scott, but I will miss him all the same. I most definitely will miss THAT trip to Houston that I would have made. Scott, may you have eternal peace and "the greatest power of them all!" Thank you for being a part of a few chapters in the story of my life!

Goodbye and Shalom,
David Rogers

“ To Cindy and the Gertner loved ones Scott's light and love will always be with you. Cindy I sat with you and Scott the night Scott was visited at the Skybar by the 2 brothers from Nashville who wanted to sign him to their record label. I was so blessed to have that time with you both that night. I thank you for touching my life.

“ To Cindy Gertner and Family -
Scott's passing comes as very sad news to me . I first met Scott in 1975 when a small group of aspiring musicians (Chaya Tinterow, Tom Watkins, Scott, and others) performed on the HSPVA campus. I knew then he was headed for great things - and I was absolutely correct ! I followed him from his early days at Birdwatcher's ,Victoria Station, Annabelle's, Midtown Live,The Roof,and several others. His performances would never disappoint and seeing his dad (Mr. David Gertner) his number one fan was always delightful . Scott had the most captivating personality and a “ great smile “ . He had a unique ability to make everyone feel valued and special . We were “ Brothers From Orher Mothers” Fly on Scottie.....I know you're entertaining the multitudes - but please reserve a table for me !

Your Friend and Brother,

“ I’ve known Scott Gertner for over 30 years, starting from his days at Scott Gerner’s Bar and Grill on Westheimer. He was known for his good looks, signature jeans and white shirt, and captivating voice. Scott played at various venues including Sullivan’s, Midtown Live, The Big Easy, and Scott Gertner’s Sky Bar. He was a legend, beloved by many. Scott will be remembered for warming hearts with his singing. We love and miss you.

I met Scott around 1985/86 and for me it was love at first sight. He was beautiful, soulful, amazingly well-mannered and thoughtful and with a voice and a smile that could melt butter. We didn’t last long as a couple and we tried to stay friends, but in the end, that was impossible. An extremely private man, I couldn’t reach him. But I never stopped loving him. His death has caused me great sadness but losing him caused me great sadness as well. It feels the same. I will always remember long walks in the park, dancing in the rain, New Orleans, meeting his parents and the hours staring into his eyes. He was spontaneous, talented, extremely sexy, funny and always polite. A man among men. I miss you Scott. Love forever, Manon.

“ I lived in Austin at the time and I’m looking at pictures laying on a table from a weekend a friend and her mom were in Houston. I immediately asked her who was this handsome man. She looked at me as if I had 3 eyes and said you don’t know who this is. Me. Ah No. She proceeded to say that’s Scott Gertner. Again that 3rd eye look. She said when he come to Austin he will play at this place called Top of the Mark which was a place in downtown Austin and he sounded like Luther Vandross. Now I’m intrigued. Not knowing when he’ll be back to Austin, I decided to go to Houston and visit like I’ve done many times beforehand but this time to see this Scott Gertner at the Skybar. I was stunned by the lines outside but by chance a friend of his was chatty with me and brought me and a friend up the other elevator so I wouldn’t have to stand in the long lines. When i got out the elevators I heard him and was mesmerized. It just so happened to be my birthday weekend 8/13 & Lord and behold he called everyone who was celebrating birthdays to come up on stage and shake whatcha momma gave you 😘. Later that evening I had the opportunity to chat with him and he shared his birthday 8/11 Yippy a fellow Leo. He gave me his Scott Gertner’s Live CD which I have today and he signed it Happy Birthday Dina, you’re a Doll! That was 24yrs ago and along the way we became friends. Crazy how life happens I moved to Houston which, I’ve loved since I was 16. I would go to the Skybar often because that was the hottest spot to be. Over the years life has been lifing but every time I would run into Scott he was always the sweet gentleman I met all those years ago. When I opened Facebook last week and the first thing I saw was RIP Scott Gertner my heart sank. I immediately thought about Cindy and Aaron. Scott was and forever will be a gem. He will never be forgotten. He will be truly missed. I pray God hold Aaron & Cindy extra tight during this difficult time. I truly am one of many who was fortunate to get to know & be around such an awesome person.

Scott and I went to HSPVA. He was 2 years ahead of me. He and I became friends years after we graduated, performing in our own perspective bands. I eventually was asked to sing in his band for a while as a backup singer and featured vocalist. I watched his journey as an incredible vocalist and musician into an entrepreneurial club owner. After 20 years of not seeing each other, it was December of 2024 at his club the Rhythm Room that he and I reconnected. I am grateful to have spent that short time with him and seeing his success. He gave so much to the music community. He will be missed tremendously. May you rest, rest, rest in heavenly peace. May your spirit be free. Also, may his family be comforted by God's love during this time.

He even brought his sister in one day and introduced her to me. He always invited me to his club. I have heard of his music and attended the Sky Bar during my college years. Love his voice. Such a friendly man and the very last time was when I ran into him at Kroger. We chatted, he gave me the biggest hug and was so kind and friendly. My heart is broken. GOD now have an angel by HIS side watching down all of us. So strange never to run into him again. Truly blessed and thankful to crossed path with him. Sending love to his sister, Cindy, and Mr. Gertner's son and family. ❤️*

“ I had the pleasure of playing in Scott's band at the Skybar every Wednesday and Saturday. It was some of my fondest moments as a musician. I learned so much and he and the others molded me into the musician I am today. Scott you will be missed dearly by me and soooo many others. You touched lives and brought people together (some are now my friends for life) and gave them memories beyond memories. The Skybar (on Montrose and Downtown), also Scott Gertner's Sports Bar (with the best wings). I still listen to our set lists just to remember those good times. I always brought guest who were visiting because everyone knew The Skybar was the place to be. I even brought my 80 yr old grandmother "Lita" to your bar and she loved you. You would always say "Aint no Party like a SKybar Party" You are right, there is not a party without you. Rest Well and fly high. Many hearts are broken and Houston is at a loss of words and are still in disbelief. This is not goodbye but I will see you again.

“It’s hard to put into words the depth of love, gratitude, and admiration I hold for my dear friend of 30 years, Scott Gertner. From the earliest days of my music journey, Scott saw something in me—and in my group Silhouette—that he nurtured with unwavering belief and mentorship. He helped shape our stage presence, elevate our vocal abilities, and encouraged us to walk boldly in our talents. Through him, we were introduced to an incredible circle of Houston musicians, many of whom became key collaborators in our career after winning first place at the national Jack the Rapper contest in Atlanta, Georgia.

We had the great honor of singing background for Scott and his phenomenal band at various shows. Those experiences were more than performances—they were moments of magic, growth, and connection. Scott was more than a musician; he was a class act, a visionary, and a true genius at his craft.

But beyond the stage lights and the spotlight, Scott was a kind soul. A pillar in the Houston community. A devoted father. A loving brother. A man who gave his all to those around him. His warmth, generosity, and deep love for artistry touched countless lives, and his loss rocks us all to the core.

Scott, your legacy will live on in every note we sing, every stage we grace, and every heart you’ve inspired. You will never be forgotten.

With love and eternal gratitude,
LeKisha Washington Hartmann 💜

*My heart is broken over the loss of Scott. What a huge Houston icon! My husband, Charlie and I have followed Scott from the beginning. Through every club he's had and enjoyed him immensely. An immeasurable loss for Houston. My love to Cindi and the family. Love
